Dinner Conversation with Felix Mendelssohn

What would dinner conversation be like with Felix Mendelssohn? Get an idea at the October installment of free monthly music lectures by Paul M. Somers, sponsored by the Bay-Atlantic Symphony.

Continue the four-month series of encounters with great composers whose fascinating lives and personalities create great dinner conversation.

The lectures will occur on Tuesday, Oct. 20, from 7 to 8:30 p.m., at the Millville Public Library, 210 Buck St., Millville; and Tuesday, Oct. 27, from 7 to 8:30 p.m., at the Avalon Free Public Library, 235 32nd St., Avalon.

This lecture series has been made possible by a grant from the New Jersey Council for the Humanities, a state partner of the National Endowment for the Humanities. Any views, findings, conclusions or recommendations in the lecture series do not necessarily represent those of the National Endowment for the Humanities or the New Jersey Council for the Humanities.

The "Four Dinner Guests" series will continue through December with opportunities to meet the second of two poor rural boys who became the greatest living composers of their ages and one of the most famous composers of the late 19th and early 20th centuries who faced a major crisis in his 70s and 80s.

Subsequent lectures this season will consist of a three-part series from January through March on how and what music means, a question-and-answer session in April, and a Fresh Ears experience in May.

Somers, is a composer, performer, founder of the Classical New Jersey Society and Maurice River Music, and was a reviewer for the Star-Ledger.
